

Most of the television content I enjoy watching is broadcasted at what are inopportune times for me. So if I cannot record a televised broadcast, then my consumption of such will drop to a fifth of its current level.